B & P. W. CONVENTION OPENS

Threats Of Filibuster Are Heard In Senate

OPPOSITION TO RECESS DEVELOPING

Small Group Organizes For Sole Purpose Of Keeping Congress at Work

CONFERENCE CALLED

Administration Leaders to Continue Plans to Take Vacation Next Saturday

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(UP)—The threat of filibuster, heard near the close of every session of congress, was sounded in the senate today when the administration farm bill minus the debenture clause came up for discussion.
Not only was a small group organizing to force congress to remain through the summer for a further fight on the debenture, but an incipient filibuster seemed to be growing against the move to repeal the national origins law. How far either movement will get remains to be developed. The leaders believe they have sufficient votes to crush opposition to the modified farm bill even if they are unable to follow President Hoover's wishes and repeal the national origins clause. They are so sure they can pass the farm bill within the next few days that they are planning to recess next Saturday until September 3.

A Democratic conference has been called for Monday to take official action on the situation, but most of the prominent Democrats including Senator Robinson, the floor leader, have already agreed to recess.

Robinson announced he desired only the rights of the minority to propose amendments and to debate the tariff bill be fully protected, when the time for a full vote on the bill is fixed. He favors the debenture plan but is not leading the fight to keep the senate here in protest against action of the house in eliminating the plan.
The fight is being organized by Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, with the help of Senator Borah, of Idaho. Borah has been given credit for having induced Mr. Hoover to call the special session of congress and he is opposed to recessing until all business, including the tariff is concluded. Norris favors rejection of the farm bill agreement. He wants the senate to stand by the debenture clause.
Behind them are a group of perhaps 15 Republicans and 10 Democrats, a number as yet insufficient to be effective only in delaying a vote on the farm agreement.
The house was in session today, expecting to receive an agreement from the conferees who are working on the census and reapportionment bill.

FOLSOM CONVICTS OPEN COURT FIGHT

SACRAMENTO, June 8.—(UP)—Another court battle to save the lives of five condemned Folsom convicts looms with filing of a new appeal to the state supreme court by J. J. Henderson, attorney for the men.
The convicts were sentenced to the gallows a second time June 5 by Superior Judge Malcolm C. Glenn for their part in the killing of a fellow convict during the Thanksgiving day riots at Folsom in 1927. They had previously been sentenced but took their case to the supreme court, which denied their plea.

Two Killed, Six Hurt In Timber And Rock Slide

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(UP)—Two men were killed and six were injured, one seriously, in a rock and timber slide in a Union Pacific railroad tunnel near Caliente, Nev., yesterday, it was officially announced today.
Because of the remoteness of the location, accurate details of the accident were unobtainable until today. Early reports that a seven-year-old girl was killed in the slide could not be verified, the Union Pacific announced.

OIL OPERATORS TO FIGHT PLAN OF REDUCTION

Importation From Foreign Countries Must Be Cut Leaders Declare

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 8.—(UP)—Independent oil operators are going to fight to the last ditch against any curtailment of oil production in the United States unless importation of oil from foreign countries is reduced, it was indicated today by leading independent operators here for a governors' conference.

The meeting was called by President Hoover to consider the possibility of eliminating waste in the oil industry through a treaty among the principal oil producing states.
Distribution of a statement here made by W. E. Wood, president of the independent oil and gas association of Oklahoma, in which he charged that the big organized oil companies have "stacked the cards" for the oil conservation meeting that opens here Monday, touched off the fireworks. The independents predicted that unless there is a disposition on the part of the government and the large operators to make concessions as to curtailment of imported oil stocks, the meeting is likely to last only two days.

"Then we will carry our case to the people of the country for settlement," said one independent.

Wood, who wants a tariff on crude oil, charged that the Colorado Springs meeting is an attempt of the Standard and Shell interests to gain control of the American oil fields and freeze out the "little fellows."

Managers of the meeting, however, seemed confident today that they would be able to iron out the differences with the independent oil producers association, said the independents who insist that any pact drawn up among the states must carry with it an agreement that the federal government will restrict the importation of oil into this country to 10 per cent of the domestic production during the period of the pact.

Many small wells are being abandoned because the price of oil makes them unprofitable to operate, Gray said. Importation of large quantities of oil particularly from South America, was blamed for the low price.

More oil money, brains and resources will be represented at the meeting than at any other gathering of its kind, E. S. Rochester, secretary of the federal oil conservation board, said.

Rochester said the National Broadcasting company and associated stations would broadcast the first day's session in a coast-to-coast hookup. Lyman Wilbur, secretary of interior, will be the principal speaker on the opening day. Mark Requa of Los Angeles will preside over the conference.

CUT IN SOUTHLAND PHONE RATE SEEN
LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(UP)—A 10 per cent reduction in telephone rates, approximately $2,000,000 yearly saving for Southern California phone subscribers, was recommended in a detailed report by the engineering staff of the state railroad commission on file today.
After a lengthy investigation of rates charged by the Southern California Telephone company, the commission engineers declared that the corporation was earning 9.93 per cent, or $9,630,000, on its present investment of $97,100,000. To reduce this earning to a 7 1/2 per cent basis, commission investigators are preparing a new schedule cutting the present charges by 10 per cent.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—(UP)—James Rolph and James Walker appeared in police court here today.

Rolph's sentence was suspended and Walker's hearing postponed until next week.

"That Rolph is not our honorable mayor and Walker is not the Mayor Walker of New York."

LABOR CABINET OF ENGLAND IS STRONG GROUP

Prime Minister MacDonald Is Lauded by Opponents For Selections

LONDON, June 8.—(UP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's new labor cabinet was hailed even by his political opponents today as the strongest group of men the labor party could have chosen to lead the government.
Including as it does several persons not in the first labor government in 1924 and several who have won eminence in their respective fields, many considered it far superior to MacDonald's first cabinet, and one which would work many benefits for Great Britain.

75TH BIRTHDAY OF REPUBLICAN PARTY HONORED

War Secretary in Address at Ripon, Wis., Tells of G. O. P. History

RIPON, Wis., June 8.—(UP)—The Republican party was created by the masses rather than by any individual leader, James W. Good, secretary of war, said in an address at the Diamond Jubilee celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the party.

He placed what might be construed as the administration's recognition of Ripon's claim as the birthplace of the party. He pointed out, however, that the creation of the party was a popular movement, arising "out of the ground, everywhere, in response to a country-wide demand from the people."

The cabinet member commented humorously on the rivalry between the many sections claiming the honor of being the birthplace of the party.
"Within a few days after it was announced that I would appear here, I received letters from at least half-score of other thoroughly documented birthplaces of the Republican party, all telling me in terms that ranged from mild amusement to positive acerbity that I was giving my countenance to a dreadful historical error."

He said his friends at Jackson, Mich., were amazed at his "blunder," the citizens of little town of Friendship, N. Y., were "indignant."

"From Bloomington, Ill., came a caller who more in sorrow than in anger, assured me that I was the victim of misplaced confidence, while my friends in Penn-

Former U.S.C. Football Star Lands In Jail

Name of Imperial Potentate of Shrine Brought Into Case by Prisoner

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(UP)—Rush Meadows, former University of Southern California football star and Portland Coast league baseball player, was arrested here today on charge of having collected thousands of dollars through fraudulently pretending to be able to obtain the release of criminals from prison.

The specific accusation against Meadows concerned his asserted extortion of approximately $35,000 from the family of John R. Osborne, who is serving a federal penitentiary term for conviction of fraud in the promotion of the Valhalla Memorial Park association.

Meadows, according to District Attorney Byron Pitts, first secured $5000 from Osborne's wife, Laura, and another $5000 from Osborne's father, J. E. Osborne, Glendale, by the representation that Leo Youngworth, prominent attorney, just elected Imperial Potentate of the A. A. O. N. M. S. Col. William Donovan and Ray Benjamin had agreed to aid him in securing Osborne's release.

Of the total amount he was said to have received from the Osbornes he allegedly reported to the Osbornes that $20,000 went to Youngworth, $5000 to Benjamin, a San Francisco attorney, and $3000 to the Republican National campaign fund.

Meadows, according to Pitts, last December told the Osbornes that during a trip to Washington he had persuaded Assistant Attorney General Mabel Walker Willebrandt, and Senator Samuel Shortridge and other executives to recommend a pardon for Osborne.

When he returned here he said that he had succeeded with these recommendations to convince President Coolidge to commute Osborne's sentence from ten years to two years, Pitts said.

Through this misrepresentation he succeeded in getting still more money from the Osbornes for attorney's fees.
Osborne and C. C. Fitzpatrick were found guilty of having taken between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 from Southern California residents by promotion of the Valhalla deal. Osborne was sent to Leavenworth for ten years.

Meadows, then serving a term for conviction on a charge of disposing of stolen Liberty bonds ascertained met Osborne at the penitentiary.

Pitts said he will ask the grand jury for an indictment Monday and will recommend that $100,000 bail be set for Meadows.

W. H. Taft In Hospital To Get Rest

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(UP)—William Howard Taft, 77th president of the United States, and at present chief justice of the supreme court who for nearly half a century has pursued the arduous labors of public life, today is in Garfield Memorial hospital, not in danger, but "in need of rest."

The 71-year-old lawyer, on the eve of his intended retreat for the summer to his beautiful and restful Murray bay summer home in Canada, was persuaded yesterday by his physicians to subject himself to hospital treatment before going.

Taft entered the hospital on returning from a short trip to Cincinnati, O., his birthplace, immediately following the recess of the supreme court.

REPRESENTING practically every city in the Southland, approximately 500 alert young business women today had taken Santa Ana by storm as they registered as delegates to the tenth annual convention of the Southern District California Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, whose formal business session opened this morning in the Ebell clubhouse, when the convention was called to order by the southern district president, Mrs. Gertrude C. Maynard. In her opening address, Mrs. Maynard expressed her satisfaction at the interest shown in convention plans, asserting that it was already the largest of any similar affair in the ten years of the federation's existence.

Mrs. Tessman extended a welcome to the delegates and to the guests present, declaring that the Santa Ana club had looked forward for the past year to the convention.

Chairman Introduced Hazel C. Northcross, general chairman of the convention was introduced and was presented with a corsage of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. Mrs. Northcross made a clever little speech in telling of the preparations that had been made for the present event.

officially today, not the least of them being A. V. Alexander's appointment as first lord of the admiralty and Sydney Webb's as colonial secretary.

Alexander was not recognized popularly as a Laborite, although he heads declared himself in favor of the Laborites some time ago. His appointment was viewed as a gesture of friendship towards the co-operatives.

Webb, a well known Fabian, is recognized as the best informed economist in the Labor party and is the author of many books on English local government and administration of the poor law.

MacDonald's action in going outside his party to name two other cabinet officers—Lord Sankey as Lord Chancellor and W. A. Jovitt as attorney general—drew praise for his courage from many quarters.

Another interesting feature of the cabinet was the membership in it of Great Britain's first woman cabinet officer. She is Miss Margaret Bonfield, former school teacher, shop assistant, and national and international trade union official who was made Minister of Labor.

The strength of the cabinet also was shown in the presence of Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary; and J. H. Thomas, Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal who also will hold the new office, Minister of Employment.

Besides those named above, the following were appointed to cabinet posts:

J. R. sional Women's club for the past two years. She is retiring from this office the last of this month.

Mrs. Hatcher said that she believed that the thing which bound members of business women's clubs so closely together was the fact that they all had a definite objective. Real friendship is engendered by these organizations, she declared.

Reports of the officers, department chairmen and chairmen of standing committees were heard. The treasurer stated that total receipts for the past year had been $684.01 and that at the present time there was $340.52 in the treasury. Tarian, told of the authorities recommended by her department for organizing and conducting clubs.

Achievements of Year
The achievements of the past year were recounted by Mrs. Maynard who said that the greatest thing accomplished had been the growth in friendship. The president said that at the present time there were 43 clubs in the district with 2859 paid up members. Four new clubs had been organized and two, one at Carlsbad and one at El Centro, had been disbanded.

Suggestions offered by Mrs. Maynard for the coming year's work were, that complete records of the departmental work be kept; that programs at executive board meetings be arranged to feature the activities of but one department of the organization and that ten cents for each member, be paid each month to the district. In 10 months this sum would reach $3000, she declared.

Friendship found in tribes and in nations was traced by the speaker, who declared that friendship now was rapidly developing in the business world. This could be seen, she said, in the formation of trades associations at the present time. This is an era of friendship, she said in closing.

An interesting report was that of Miss Emily Brown, of Glendale, who spoke of the placing of 17 applicants in permanent positions, by the Glendale club.

The following were appointed to serve on a committee for ratification of the minutes taken during the convention: Mrs. Louise Phillips, of Long Beach, Miss Emily Brown of Burbank, and Mrs. Grace Wright of Hollywood.

As a preliminary to today's formal opening, with the attendant registration of the scores of delegates, was last night's reception given at Eboli clubhouse, which shares with St. Ann's Inn, the distinction of being convention headquarters.

Social Function
Probably no similar event in the history of the city has achieved more interest than this convention, and none has been marked by a more brilliant social function on its opening than last night's assembly at the clubhouse. The array of beautiful gowns worn, the friendly hospitality which prevailed, the informal musical program, and above all, the handsome clubhouse with its lavish floral decorations, all contributed to a scene which was declared by Miss Jane Humphreys of Los Angeles, to be "by far the most beautiful convention ever staged in the history of the federation." Miss Humphreys is a former Santa Ana who was among those directly responsible for the formation of the local B. and P. W. club and as one of the leading business women of the Angel city, is known all over the state for her interest in club activities.

Last night's reception had been planned by Mrs. John A. Tessmann, retiring president of the hostess club, and Mrs. Marshall Northcross, general convention chairman, with the anticipation of entertaining perhaps only a score or so of delegates and visitors, but to establish at once the convention theme, "The Unifying Power of Friendship." But to the amazement of everyone in the hostess organization, the response was overwhelming, and approximately 150 delightful guests were greeted.

Mrs. Tessmann, Mrs. N. E. Mayhill, newly installed president, and Mrs. Northcross formed the receiving line just within the French street entrance to the clubhouse, presenting the arrivals to Mrs. Maynard, guest of honor, Miss Gladys Stamps of Orange, president of the Orange county federation B. and P. W., and other distinguished women present.

Wins Prize
Hostess clubwomen were happy to see their guests enter with enthusiasm into the "get-acquainted" spirit for which they had striven, and which was furthered by the clever little scrolls handed to each new arrival, for the purpose of writing down the names of all with whom she came into contact during the evening. Miss Winifred Wonders of Long Beach acquired the longest list of names, and was surprised to find that she had won a prize as well as a number of new friends. The gift was a handsome hand-blocked scarf in tones of orchid and woods violet, and, with a frilly handkerchief, was presented by the Ruthersford shop.

From time to time during the evening, lone Tunison Peck, one of Santa Ana's most gifted artists, played piano numbers, her selections including such brilliant compositions as Chopin's "Scherzo in F Sharp Minor," "The Knitting Needles" by Couperin, and "Black Moth" and "Will O' the Wisp" by Phillippe, the maestro and composer under whom she studied in Paris.

Every part of the clubhouse was thrown open to the guests, who found peacock room, foyer, dressing rooms, auditorium and lounge brilliant with gladioluses, roses, snapdragons and perhaps what was the most effective of all, great branches of golden broom. In the patio, roses were hanging heavy upon the vines, and the whole scene was one of fairyland.

Attracting much attention were the various club exhibits to which the lounge was given over. Long Beach offered her year books in which the club membership of 200 was classified according to occupation. A framed picture of the prize-winning float in the Armistice day parade was in this same exhibit. San Diego had a striking entry in which mounted knights, carrying the banners of money-making activities, stormed the silver castle on the heights, and seemed ready to conquer it, indicating that San Diego clubwomen are about to achieve their own clubhouse.

Clever Sketches
Ontario's section activities were indicated by amusing little groups of figures. Covina had worked out an original manner of presenting her club occupations by a series of clever pen and ink sketches. Orange emphasized the same idea by showing examples of work or activities of her members. Monrovia presented a miniature clubhouse which comfortably furnished rooms worked out in detail.

Santa Ana club's activities were suggested by various articles contributed by members, but the chief feature of the local display was the large placard upon which were photographs of each individual member with her occupation listed beneath. Miss Mary Smart, the photographer member, had taken the pictures, which were mounted on a background to represent the club's meeting place, St. Ann's Inn.

Sharing interest with the exhibits, were the linen-covered tables where fruit punch and wafers were served informally all evening. And the registration table where Miss Helen Gallagher handed out the envelopes with ticket books, badges and artistic programs of today's and tomorrow's events.

EXERCISES FOR PUPILS TO BE HELD ON LAWN

Commencement exercises at the Santa Ana high school, scheduled for next Friday evening at 8 o'clock, will be held outside to accommodate the thousands who flock to the rites every year.

Large illuminating flood lights and a special amplifying system will be installed. A large platform will be erected in front of the building and approximately 4000 seats on the lawn. The graduates will march in two lines from Walnut street down to the school through the audience and up on the platform decorated in blue and gold by the juniors. Caps and gowns will be worn by the graduates at both baccalaureate and commencement.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. S. J. Mustol, director of instrumental music in Santa Ana schools, will play a march, "The American Banner," while the graduates are marching in and will follow with the overture "The Indian Princess," by King. The Rev. O. W. Reinius will deliver the invocation, after which the high school girls' glee club will sing "The Old Refrain," by Kreisl.

The address of the evening will be given by the Rev. William Everett Roberts, Los Angeles, former pastor of the Presbyterian church of Santa Ana. David Roberts, son of the speaker, graduated from the local school in 1927.

"Who Is Sylvia" by Schubert will be sung by the boys' glee club. D. K. Hammond, principal of the school, will then present the class to the president of the board of education, Dr. John D. Ball, who will present the diplomas. The certificates are encased in handsome brown leather binders with the name of the student and school stamped in gold on the outside.

FOOD STORE ON FOURTH STREET DRAWS CROWDS

Scores of Santa Anans attended the formal opening of the California Food store on East Fourth street last evening. W. A. Goodwin, manager, will conduct the feature department of the store, the meat market, which is to make its specialty Old Mission meats. His equipment includes the most modern refrigeration.

The remainder of the store is divided into six departments. The candy counter and soda fountain are managed by the Albert-Sheets Mission candy. Frank Briggs manages the fountain.

Ben B. Beasley, who has conducted a store at 1206 East Fourth street in this city for seven years, is in charge of the grocery department, which is to feature Irish goods and has begun with a stock valued at $3000.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gratz are directing the delicatessen department. They had experience in business in Los Angeles, Long Beach and Whittier previous to their coming here and all display and commercial delicacies are made in the attractive kitchen of the new store. Mrs. Gratz does the cooking herself.

The fruit and vegetable stand is managed by M. Lampasi and Joe Bonato, who start with a stock valued at $1000. The vegetables and fruits are brought here daily by truck fresh from Los Angeles.

All seven departments of the store join together in the delivery service, which will be made four times daily.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Clayton, who have purchased a new home at 817 North Main street, are proprietors of the bakery. They came here recently from La Mesa. H. W. Henline is the pastry decorator.

Among the most attractive features at the opening last evening were the windows on Fourth street. Old Mission milk lambs hung from the top and flank steaks, chicken and bacon nestled in green parsley formed a splendid display. Another window held canned goods in neat array and still another featured the fruits and vegetables, with watermelons, cantaloupes, pineapple and grapefruit.

The Henry Delgado orchestra in costume furnished music throughout the entire evening. They were attired in costume and were seated on the small balcony alcove in the mezzanine floor.

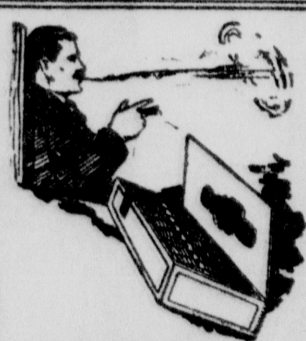

On the mezzanine floor are the fastidious furnished women's rest and smoking rooms, and a business office for bookkeepers, where Miss Margaret Goodwin and Mrs. Nell Cole will be employed.

Baskets of flowers were received from the following: Santa Ana branch of the Security First National Bank of Los Angeles; Santa Ana East Side Improvement association; Grand Rapids Store Equipment corporation; First National bank, Santa Ana; Platt Auto service; Corcoran Paper company, Fullerton; Albert-Sheets Missiopp Candy company; Orange County Tile and Mantel company; E. Discussion Of Flood Control Problem

Santa Ana Register, Santa Ana, Calif.

Gentlemen: I read with much interest the main editorial of last night in which you invite counter proposals if the present flood control plan does not suit. In other words, after the employment by the board of supervisors of an engineer and staff who over a period more than two years investigated the proposition at an expense of $120,000, you ask those who cannot see the advisability of investment, to, in six weeks, prepare a new plan for flood control.

It is not probable that those of us who regard our personal area to join in any boosting movement, yet cannot be stammered into a proposition of the nature of this one, are not going to have an opportunity to answer. Consequently the haste in the election six weeks after filing of the report.

Personally, I haven't the slightest criticism to offer on the engineering report. Mr. Bailey did exactly what he was employed to do. Let me call your attention to three or four matters in connection with the proposition that you have sight of. Mr. Bailey's preliminary report to the board of supervisors several months ago, incorporated the expenditure of $11,000 for flood control and water conservation of the Santa Ana river. The report was almost immediately returned to him for further consideration—of what?—other than the expenditure of $5,000 additional money the votes Brea, Ollinda, Fullerton, San Capistrano and San Clemente did not be favorably influenced the project by placing dams on Juan creek, Trabuco creek, not physical, and was mostly inconvenience.

In closing, let me offer to you the substitute of an ordinary, everyday business man whose engineering knowledge is nil. Construct the upper and lower Santiago reservoirs at a cost of $1,615,500, (page 35 of Engineer Bailey's report). None of the floods during the past 10 years would have done any appreciable damage had the flood waters of the Santiago creek not joined those of the Santa Ana river.

Would it not be well for the board of supervisors to spend a few thousand dollars and ascertain what it would cost to septicize all of the sewage water that is now going through the main outfall sewer and carry the water back as an irrigation project on the orange groves of this county?

Yours very truly,
LEW H. WALLACE.

As the above letter is an apparent criticism of our editorial we desire to make a word of comment upon it.

We were not asking anyone to make a new plan for flood control in six weeks time, but we were simply stating that the people of the county officially made an investigation as to what to do, and that that plan is now before us. We can either oppose it or accept it.

It may be that engineers after months of study could be better informed on the situation than they could be in six weeks time. In the last analysis those of us who are not experts in engineering will have to depend upon the opinion of engineers or other experts. It is merely a matter of whose opinion we are going to follow.

The writer of the above letter states that Mr. Bailey in a preliminary report to the Board of Supervisors proposed an expenditure of $11,500,000 for flood control in the Santa Ana river, and that when this report was made to the supervisors it was returned to him for further consideration, so as to give other points dams to the extent of five millions in order to get their votes. In the preliminary report made by Engineer Bailey to the Board of Supervisors on Dec. 14, 1927, and published in the Register, he said:

1. Investigations should be such so as to lead to a county-wide program embracing all streams and sections of the county, and should not be confined alone to the Santa Ana river.

2. The plan developed should be comprehensive in its nature and should look toward the complete elimination of the flood menace and full conservation of water in Orange county, etc.

And as a matter of fact in this very progress report, progress on the surveys of reservoirs and dam sites in Brea canyon, Carbon canyon, Santiago creek and Trabuco creek were specifically noted.

In the next paragraph it is stated that a period of 40 years like the past 10 years would return to them a certain value for water conserved. This is greatly in error for the 10 years referred to had only 30 per cent rainfall, and the run off was much below normal. It would be a matter of unprecedented occurrence that three more periods of 10 years like the one mentioned should occur in succession.

In the next paragraph reference is made to the computation of flood damage for several years past. There have been no such computations made in the engineer's report.

The statement is made that floods in the Santa Ana river have done no appreciable damage if the floods of Santiago creek were controlled and the Santa Ana river were uncontrolled. This is incorrect, the extent of error in this statement is indicated by the following: The capacity of the Santa Ana river channel below the jurisdiction of Santiago creek by survey is 5000 cu. ft. per second without overtopping the levees. In 1916 a greatest flow of 4500 cu. ft. per second came down the Santa Ana river, without inclusion of any water from Santiago creek.

(By W. C. Jerome, county auditor and chairman of the Citizens Committee for Flood Control.)

Anybody who wants data concerning the flood control project more in detail than it is possible to present it through the newspapers can get it either by securing the pamphlet issued by the county or by personally inspecting the engineering data on record at the county flood control engineer's office.

This data has been compiled over a period of twenty months by engineers employed by the county, and has been carefully reviewed by three of the foremost engineers of the world.

I have been asked to give you a few of the facts concerning the proposed dam in the Santa Ana canyon and to give briefly the reason why the lower site was selected by the chief engineer, the three nationally known consulting engineers, the committee of the Orange County Association of Engineers, the citizens advisory board, consisting of D. J. Dodge of Costa Mesa, J. J. Dwyer of Anaheim, N. T. Edwards of Orange, H. H. Hale of Placentia, J. A. Knapp of Garden Grove, A. N. Saxton of Orange, C. E. Utt of Tustin and W. B. Williams of Santa Ana, and the attorneys, H. C. Head and R. Y. Williams.

A dam 155 feet high and 950 feet thick at its base, capable of storing 180,000 acre feet of water that is priceless to Orange county, constitutes the central unit of the county's $16,500,000 flood control program, which will be submitted to the voters on June 25.

The plan by which this great reservoir, which will inundate nine miles of the Santa Ana canyon when it is filled, will be used to not only provide complete flood protection, but also to conserve the heretofore wasted storm waters, is to hold the waters in storage only long enough to release them gradually into the river channel below the dam, where they will sink into the underground water basin.

This underground basin is the source from which 80 per cent of the water used in the county is pumped. Its replenishment from the system of reservoirs planned constitutes an object of equal importance with control of floods.

Besides building the big dam at the lower Prado site, the flood control district proposes to purchase the entire river channel from the dam to the ocean, for use as a spreading ground, where the waters released from the dam can percolate to the basin beneath. As stated in the engineer's report, it is planned, by artificial regulation of the river, to intensify the natural method of replenishing the underlying water supply.

The Santa Ana river works is the hub of the entire project as it receives the run-off from 1450 square miles of watershed, up river. Nearly three-fourths of the entire bond issue would be devoted to development of the Santa Ana river, the estimate being $11,895,300.

The dam designed by Engineer Paul Bailey at the lower Prado site is pronounced by three nationally famous engineers who reviewed the plan, to have greater safeguards against failure than any dam they have ever seen, being nearly a fifth of a mile thick at the base. It is said that this dam would not be recognized as a dam, but would appear from a short distance away, to be a part of the natural landscape. The most approved modern engineering design marks its structural features, combined to not only provide absolute safety but also to provide means of passage for the stream's underflow.

Sand and gravel found at the site of the dam offers the advantage of economy in construction, besides supplying material for the most durable type of dam that could be built. As a matter of fact, about 45 per cent of the sum allotted to this works, goes not for dam construction, but for relocating 12.8 miles of Santa Fe railroad lines, rebuilding 6.3 miles of highway and parts of two irrigation canals in the reservoir site.

The lower Prado site was selected for the dam in preference to the upper Prado site for several reasons. One was that the site is regarded by geologists and engineers as the safest. Another was that it would more certainly conserve the county's water supply for this county and avoid the risk of diversion to another water shed, as might be the case at the upper site, although such diversion is only problematical. A third reason was that the lower site, all things considered, would be cheaper, despite the fact that the actual construction cost would be greater than at the upper site.

Damage to water rights at the upper site might run to a sum greater than the entire cost of the county project, it is estimated. This is because of the fact that much of the water coming down river to Or-

BOY'S LEG BROKEN AS CAR HITS HORSE

As a result of a mix-up between a boy riding a horse and an automobile, at the intersection of Almond and Cambridge streets, Orange, last night, Victor Wells, 16, of 1202 East Almond street, is a patient at the Orange County hospital, suffering with a broken leg.

Mrs. B. C. O'Neal, 320 North Cambridge street, Orange, who was a passenger in the car, which was driven by her husband, was slightly injured as a result of the mishap. According to reports from the hospital, Wells was riding the horse down the street, and was unable to tell just what happened, except that he ended up on top of the car.

6 EL TORO SCHOOL STUDENTS GRADUATE

EL TORO, June 8.—Six students graduated from the El Toro grammar school at commencement exercises held in the town hall Thursday night. Diplomas were presented to Helen Marie Bennett, Ida Marie Swartz, Grace Lucille Thomas, Peter Acuna, Chester W. Tait and William Howard by Mrs. L. E. Moulton, president of the school board.

An operetta and several short plays were presented as part of the commencement exercises, and the address to the class, "Where Do We Go From Here," was delivered by Professor Vincent L. Heston, a member of the faculty of the Tustin union high school.

Yorba Linda C. C. Urges Attention On Water Project

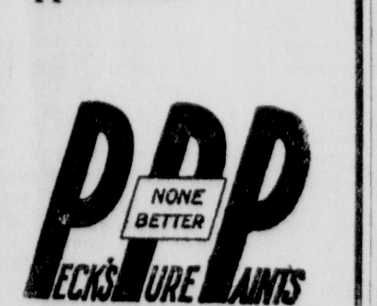

A communication from the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce urging the board of supervisors and all organizations interested in the welfare of Orange county to concentrate attention for the present on successful passage of the $16,500,000 flood control bond proposal, was on file today in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

he booster body has passed a resolution in which the flood control and water conservation program was termed the first step in county-wide planning. The communication was signed by E. R. Walker, secretary.

Orange county rises at the upper Prado site, and would be interfered with by a reservoir there. That factor alone barred consideration of the upper site, though there were other lesser reasons for building the reservoir, so far as possible, within the boundaries of our own county, as would be the case with the lower site. The upper site would be entirely outside of the county.

$25,000 Doesn't Excite Rancher

OROVILLE, June 8.—Although he has fallen heir to $25,000, Charles Battenfield, Biggs rancher, is going to keep right on mowing hay.

The bequest was from the estate of his father, who died in England in 1903. The property was left to six children, and until now has been tied up in litigation. Battenfield's share was $25,000.

When he received word this week that his property was finally adjudicated, Battenfield didn't get a bit excited.

"I'm going to continue mowing that," he said. "I've done it 17 years, now, and I like it a heap sight more than loafing around."

HICKS AND SLIDES
Henry L. Farrell
DID YOU KNOW THAT—
The Cleveland won't be in the red when the American league season closes. . . . They recently departed the St. Louis Browns with the biggest check the Browns ever got out of Cleveland. . . . The two clubs played to 40,000 customers in three days on the last trip. . . . Benny Myer, coaching for the Detroit Tigers, is rated as the noisiest man in baseball. . . . Frank Scariato, of South Manchester, Mass., is a wov of a schoolboy pole vaulter. . . . And he doesn't wear shoes when he is working. . . . Tom Turner, president of the Portland Pacific Coast league, won't allow a certain kind of chewing gum to be sold in his baseball park. . . . Because he is mad at William Wrigley. . . . And a lot of the other Pacific Coast mags are mad at Wrigley. . . . Because he lets women into his Los Angeles park every day. . . . For nothing.

LAUGH, BOYS, LAUGH!
The recent stir in the Western Conference, resulting in the expulsion of the University of Iowa, must have caused two chuckles. One chuckle must have come from the genial Dan Ferris, secretary of the A. A. U., and the second chuckle must have come from Avery Brundage, president of the A. A. U.

Only recently Brundage and Ferris, as the front men for the body that controls amateur athletics in the United States, were under the hot fire of Major John Griffith, the czar of the Western conference.

Major Griffith and General Palmer Pierce, the directing minds of the National Collegiate Athletic association, were insisting that the A. A. U. should clean house and make the amateur athletes stay amateurs without pay or the suggestion of pay.

The Western conference is the back bone of the National Collegiate Athletic association and it certainly would seem that the crusaders against the A. A. U. and the American Olympic Committee should have kept its own yard in order while it was throwing down the sawdust for the converts to march on.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?
In spite of all the elaborate publicity that has been devoted to him it seems likely now that Max Schmelling will not be the favorite when he enters the ring to fight Paulino in the first big outdoor match of the summer season.

The match is more than the first big outdoor match of the season. It is a match that is expected to produce a winner that will meet Jack Sharkey in a later match to decide the rightful successor to the world's heavyweight championship.

Schmelling looks like Dempsey and he has the mannerisms in the ring of the former heavyweight champion. But you have to have more than the looks and the mannerisms of a former champion to beat a tough fellow like Paulino.

RECORD NOT SO HOT
Schmelling's record is not crowded with entries that would warrant you to run with the bank roll and lay it on the line that he is to be the next champion—or that he is going to beat Paulino or a lot of other fellows.

The German got his big notice when he knocked out Johnny Risko. Risko was a big shot and he had never been knocked out before. But he was not in shape when he fought Schmelling.

Risko doesn't like to train. He doesn't dissipate like a Chuck Wiggins, but he thought he was so good he didn't have to reduce the waist line to beat the bums (as he called them) he was matched with. He went to a Polish wading the night before he fought Emmett Rocco recently. And he lost the nod.

So, it may be that Schmelling isn't so hot just because he stopped the Risko.

East Thinks Columbia May Beat U. C. Crew

HOPE TO STOP PACIFIC COAST 'GRAND SLAM'

By BOB MATHERNE
(NEA Service Sports Writer)
CLEVELAND, June 8.—There remains only one more opportunity for Pacific coast teams to show superiority over the East in intercollegiate competition this season. That chance is afforded in the coming Poughkeepsie regatta.

It isn't beyond memory how football teams from Oregon State and Stanford journeyed from their native hearths last fall to thump, and in painful fashion, the teams of New York university and Army, respectively.

Of course, the victory of Stanford a few days ago in the Eastern intercollegiate track championships wasn't any great surprise. It had been forecast in a manner that left only the number of points to be made in doubt. And in making points Stanford surprised, by scoring a fraction more than 45 to lead its second nearest rival by the largest margin recorded in many years. Incidentally, the second place winner was Southern California.

Can U. C. Make Grand Slam?
And now comes the crew race on the Hudson and this question: Will California win to make a grand slam for the Pacific coast for the 1928-1929 college year?

Strange as it may seem to Californians and others away from the Atlantic seaboard, there is a feeling in the East that Columbia and not California has the crew to beat this season.

An impression prevails that Columbia's crew is at least 40 per cent stronger than it was last season when it was "mowed out" by less than a boat length and that it is gaining strength daily.

And there's another impression to be gained from talking to eastern observers and that is that Cornell "is going to be in there plenty" in this boat race. In other words, Cornell rates as the "dark horse." There always is one, you know.

East Respects Bears
The opinion of easterners that Columbia will be the favorite to win before the day of the race isn't any effort to belittle the strength of the powerful California crew.

Easterners have great respect for the veteran crew of Ky Ebright and great respect for its showing this last season and its showing this year. Coach Dick Glendon, the younger, has that kind of a crew.

It is easily the outstanding crew of the east. It defeated Navy in its first start and then romped away easily in its race against Yale and Penn. And it also registered over Princeton and M. I. T.

Cornell Won Last in 1915
One has to look far back in the records to see where Cornell last won a race. It was in 1915. The Ithacans finished second in 1916 and 1920, but since then they have been at Poughkeepsie, and that's about all. Only in 1921 and 1924 did they finish as high as third.

The 1929 eight is said to be the best the school has had in many years. It is true that Cornell was beaten by Yale this season, but its crew swept over Syracuse by approximately six lengths.

Perhaps it hasn't the power to battle Columbia and California evenly, but it won't come as too great a surprise if they do.

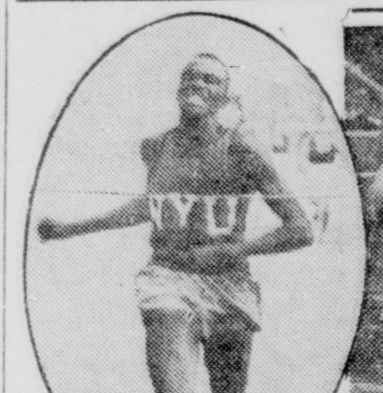

Crews of other schools entered in the race are not held as highly as those of California, Columbia and Cornell, although Little is known of the Wisconsin crew.

Summed up, this seems certain—the honors will go to California or Columbia, and the favorite before the race to win will be according to whether you're an easterner or a westerner. Both crews are rated stronger crews than they were in 1928. And this fact tends to indicate that Ebright's men and young Glendon's men will offer a greater race than ever staged before.

Of course, if California wins, there won't be anything about the 1928-1929 competition against Pacific coast teams for the East to brag about.

ON TO AZTEC!
GILA BEND, Ariz., June 8.—C. C. Pyle and his transcontinental footrace started on to Aztec, Ariz., today, 47 miles from here. The sixty-ninth lap of the race yesterday was won by Gusto Unek, the Italian, who traveled the 49 miles from Buckeye, Ariz. In 6:18:40. John Salo and Peter Gavuzzi finished in a dead heat for second place.

INTERCOLLEGIATE RECORDS FELL FOR THEM AS FAR WEST ROUTS EAST

TOPPLED at the annual intercollegiate A. A. A. championships at Franklin field, Philadelphia. It was a far western triumph, for Stanford university athletes won with 43½ points and Southern California was runner-up with 21.

PRICE VICTIM OF BAD BREAK IN BOWL GAME

Long, lean, limber Ray Price who has a real picnic when he pitching, must have thought the gods had joined in some sort of conspiracy against Orange of the Santa Ana Stars beat him to 0, in the Bowl here last night.

Although yielding a nest of hits to the Orange County leaguers, Price pitched as smart against the Santa Anas as one has this wintry summer proper support and a de amount of breaks he might be out there slow-balling Southern California night has rulers, and laughing at their forts.

Four of the five Star runs were unearned and there was considerable doubt whether the fifth did not come under that head for "Shorty" Smith, the balls strikes umpire, must have the a pitcher was entitled to strikes as a batsman when he Glenn Stockbridge single "Bill" Cole home in the sixth. Stockbridge obviously took a s at a third strike.

Fly Ball Hits Wire
The first unkind cut at Price was taken in the third nings, after two were out. Schuchardt, Santa Ana's left center fielder, who was the ing's fielding goal, hit a high to right that came in contact, an illumination wire and el Talmadge for a triple. Hill bu and Price had plenty of time throw him out but instead plunked the little Santa Ana stop on the neck and he was Schuchardt scoring with the run of the night.

Santa Ana made three more in next frame and Price was in way responsible for them. He singled infield to open the inning. Nelson grounded sh to Leichtfuss who fooled a en opportunity for a double and all hands were safe. T forced Merrill at third, Frick assisted, and Wilcox formed it at second. Leichtfuss to Hahn, the second out, Nelson taking on the transaction.

Stockbridge then bounded Leichtfuss who threw to Pitt for an easy third out but the ange first baseman dropped ball. Nelson scored, of co and so did Wilcox while Pitt was feverishly fumbling for unruly agate. When he did possession of the ball he wildly to the plate in a be effort to catch Wilcox. S bridge pulled up at second o overthrow. He started to third an instant later and cam the way home where he rec sparkling support from his leagues. Schuchardt coming with three sensational catch Garden Grove and Anaheim clung tenaciously to Santa Ana's shirt-tail today in the wild roughhouse for the 1929 championship of the Orange County Night Baseball league. They were both just a half-a-game out of first place after winning from Huntington Beach and Olive, respectively, last night.

The surprising Chilipeppers, who within a period of one week have beaten three of the best clubs in the league, turned back Huntington Beach, 2 to 1, at Garden Grove, Morrill, allowing only three safeties, had the Oilers blanked until the ninth when Marshall got a life on an error, took second on an out and scored on Dietzel's single.

Garden Grove was unable to do much with Joe Gardner, either, but bunched enough hits in the third round to score twice and Morrill's powerful pitching made the skinny lead hold up.

The season's first "gigantic" will send Santa Ana to Garden Grove next Friday night. This one contest will not decide the title but it will have plenty to say about who does.

Anaheim, coming back to life after losing two league games in succession, defeated Olive, 4 to 0, at Olive. Al Bushman was too strong for the Gateway City chaps.

Firpo Denies Ring 'Comeback' Report

BUENOS AIRES, June 8.—Luis Angel Firpo, once the leading contender for the heavyweight boxing crown, today denied he was planning a comeback in the fight game under the direction of Charley Rose, New York manager. Reports from New York said Rose claimed to have an agreement with the former "Wild Bull" whereby Firpo would return to that country at once in quest of the championship vacated by Gene Tunney.

Fear Schmelling In Danger Of Going Stale

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 8.—Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmelling, is easing up on the German heavyweight's training program for the Paulino bout, June 27. Jacobs fears that Maxie has been overworked and may go stale.

Schmelling laid off boxing yesterday but got plenty of exercise. He played 18 holes of golf at the Lakewood Country club links in the morning and another 18 in the afternoon.

COAST LEAGUE MAGNATES URGE SPLIT SEASON

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—Aktion for the "split" season, tried last year in the Pacific Coast league but abandoned after Sacramento and San Francisco battled for the pennant, has taken an acute form again.

The latest recruits to the cause of the double circuit were J. H. Patrick, president of Los Angeles, and "Red" Killefer, leader of the league-leading Mission Reds.

A letter from Patrick on the subject was to be delivered to Harry A. Williams, president of the league, today.

Patrick, it was said, drew a comparison between the relatively successful financial season last year and the present season, which is said to be disappointing to most of the clubs in the league.

The commanding lead enjoyed by the Missions was cited by Patrick, who called to Williams' attention the poor attendance in all points except Los Angeles and Oakland.

Killefer, it is understood, informed Patrick that he would welcome a split season as a stimulus to attendance. He is said to have told the Los Angeles boss that he could be counted for an affirmative vote if other clubs thought the switch would pull more fans through the turnstiles.

Williams is awaiting to definite expression of majority sentiment before calling a meeting of the directors, or a poll by mail, it was said.

On past occasions the Sacramento and San Francisco managements have leaned toward the "split" season ranks and proponents of the plan believe that the Seattle Indians would be the needed fifth club to start definite action.

CHAVEZ MEETS JOHNNY ADAMS IN NEXT SCRAP

BY RINGSIDER
From rags to riches, one of Horatio Alger's own story tales, will come true next Wednesday night when Little Zenayda Chavez, 19-year-old Santa Ana Mexican welterweight, breaks into the "big time" and the "big money" less than two years after he started as a $5-a-bout preliminary boy.

Chavez will meet Johnny Adams, San Bernardino veteran, at Wilmington in a main event that has been in the making for several months. It will be the first time Chavez has gone against a top-notch. If he wins decisively he is made as an attraction at any club in Southern California.

Adams is beginning to slide downhill but he is still stout, still game and still ring smart. The bout will conclusively prove whether Chavez has championship possibilities or—that he is still just a preliminary boy.

Manager Earl Grigsby has moved Chavez' training camp to Long Beach for the coming contest and has engaged Frankie Burns and Billy Clark as sparring partners. Adams is training at San Bernardino.

"Pop" Barrett, manager of Frank Williams and Bert Samson who have made splendid showings at the Orange County Athletic club in recent weeks, claims Jimmie Rivers has given the most unique excuse in history for refusing a rematch here with Samson.

Writing to the Register, Barrett says Rivers tabled the proposed match because he, Rivers, was convinced he had beaten Samson already and saw no reason for meeting him again.

"It was the first time in my 40-odd years in the game I had heard of a loser turning down a return match to wipe out a stain on his record," Barrett writes. "If Rivers was robbed it is all the more reason he should want to prove he was the victim of a bad decision."

Seven Colts Race In Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK, June 8.—Seven colts go to the barrier this afternoon for the sixty-first running of the Belmont Stakes, one of the leading horse races of America, for a purse of approximately $75,000.

Despite the fact that Clyde Van Dusen, winner of the Kentucky Derby, is not one of the entrants, turf experts here were prepared to recognize the winner as the champion three-year-old of the year.

Three horses, Blue Larkspur, Jack High and Dr. Freehand, were rated as on an equal footing.

Resuming its winning ways after a temporary setback, the Shell Oil company made seven hits count for six runs in beating the Pacific Telephone company, 6 to 3, in yesterday's Santa Ana Twilight league game.

The Pole-Climbers got more hits off Earl Jones than the Royal Dutchmen made off Korse but the Shells made all their mean runs. The Oilers picked up a pair in the first on Dorman's single, a walk and Jones' double; made another in the third on Dorman's double, a wild pitch and Sands' sacrifice fly to center, and made victory sure by marking three times in the sixth on Sturzeneger's double, Roehm's pass, singles by Hyde and Taylor and Ellis' error.

Jones held the Pole-Climbers runless until the fifth when Adams singled and went around on infield outs and passed balls. J. Underwood, Korse, Adams and Curtis all hit safely in succession in the seventh to accumulate two runs.

Twilight play will be resumed on Monday, the Dennis Printers facing the Excelsior Creamery company. The score:

BAMBINO SAYS HE'LL BE BACK IN GAME SOON

NEW YORK, June 8.—Minimizing reports that he was "a very sick man" and predicting that he would be back on the diamond in a week or ten days, Babe Ruth today remained in seclusion of his home.

A deep chest cold was Ruth's version of the illness that took him from the New York Yankees' lineup last Saturday and he laughed at reports that his heart was weak and that he might be forced to give up baseball.

Through his manager, Christy Walsh, Ruth admitted he was "pretty sick" when the cold first overtook him but declared that he was well on the road to recovery and expected to be back in the game soon.

Reports that Ruth was suffering from heart trouble and several minor ailments threw a real scare into New York baseball fans yesterday but proved to have little foundation in fact.

Artie McGovern, physical culture expert who has trained Ruth since 1925, said there was nothing alarming about Ruth's condition. "It is natural that the Babe's heart is not in the best of shape," McGovern said. "He is eating too much and not getting enough exercise. With the proper care he ought to get back in the game in 10 days."

WORLD RECORDS KEYLY IN BIG COLLEGE MEET

By BERT DEMBY
Associated Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, June 8.—A great 100 dash field and possible record-breaking performances in other events were the feature attractions today as the best of the country's athletes went into the lists of the eighth annual National Intercollegiate track and field meet.

The meet was off to an auspicious start yesterday when one of the world's best 100 yarders, and one meet mark shattered in the preliminary events. The world's record went to Pete Mus, Ohio State, who tossed the discus 159 feet, 1 1/2 inches, to the old mark held by "Bud" Houser. Houser's distance was 158 1/2 inches.

The world mark was tied by the Tolan, Michigan, and George Johnson, Ohio State, both of whom stepped the 100 yards in 9.5 seconds. That time was set by himself two weeks ago at Madison, Ill., and has not been officially sanctioned but since there is little wind it was believed he would receive credit for the performance.

Besides Tolan and Simpson, Maude Bracey, Rice Institute, and Cy Leland, Texas Christian, were regarded as possible winners. Both Bracey and Leland ran their preliminary heats in 9.6 seconds.

Urbow Rother, Stanford, broke the meet mark in the shot put a heavy 50 feet, 3 inches, inches better than the old mark held by John Kuck, the Kansas throw in the discus was the best effort of the preliminaries but Ed Moeller, Oregon, had after he had registered a time of 159 feet, 10 inches.

The dominance of the West Coast seemed to stand out in the preliminaries. The University of Southern California led in quality with eight, the University of Washington was second with seven, Illinois was third with six, and only three men in meet qualified all three and looked on as a threat for honors. It was possible for Stanford men to score more than 40 points, as all are considered almost sure point getters.

At Singapore, British Malaya, will have its outboard motor regatta in 1929.

FUGAZY, M'MAHON FORM PARTNERSHIP

NEW YORK, June 8.—Humbert J. Fugazy, New York fight promoter, recently deserted by Jack Dempsey, has joined forces with Jess McMahon, prominent matchmaker, for the outdoor boxing season.

McMahon, former matchmaker at Madison Square Garden and more recently promoter of bouts at the New York Coliseum, has arranged four bouts for Fugazy to be held at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, this summer. Fugazy and McMahon will sign a contract Monday.

Referring to Dempsey, Fugazy said that the former heavyweight champion "hasn't a chance to get out of the contract" which was signed by them, March 25. The promoter claims that Jack signed for two years to act as matchmaker for Fugazy and Cole, accepting $40,000 as advance salary for the first year.

He also asserts Dempsey broke the contract and severed his relations with the firm on a "mere technicality" and that Jack will have to come back and go to work or return the $40,000.

MO. PAC. CONDUCTOR MAKES REMARKABLE STATEMENT TO PUBLIC

Capt. L. F. Barton Says Old Time Strength Failed Him Completely—Was On Verge of Nervous and Physical Breakdown—Declares First Few Doses of Sargon Acted Almost Like Magic—Now Feels at Least 20 Years Younger—Buys 12 Bottles for Friends.

"I was in a general run-down condition, very nervous, had a poor appetite and was greatly troubled with constipation. I was just going about my work through force. I know from 24 years of railroad experience that I was not up to my normal 'punch'."

"I have always been a hard worker and enjoyed it, but—for the past three or four months my old time strength has been failing me. I am different from most people about taking medicine, only occasionally taking some laxatives or salts when I became bilious—so I thought that all I needed to overcome the condition which had existed the past four months was a 'round of purgative medicines'—this I tried without the slightest results. It just seemed I could not get anything to act on my liver because the more laxatives I took the more bilious I became."

"Just about the time your first article appeared in the papers explaining Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills action on the liver and gall bladder, I was convinced of its merits—I knew that a medicine with the years of research back of it that Sargon has had must have merit to be offered to the public."

"I purchased both Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills and began taking them about three weeks ago. The first few doses acted like magic and gradually, day by day, I began to feel better, stronger, than I have in years—I feel at least 20 years younger—I don't feel 'shaky,' and my appetite is better than ever."

"I know now I was on the verge of a complete nervous and physical breakdown."

"To show you what I think of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, within the past week I've taken over 12 bottles to my friends down the road—and from the reports they are giving me—Sargon must be more than you claim for it. I never fail to say a good word for Sargon."

"As a member of the Missouri Pacific Service I believe in being of service to the community which we serve, and for this reason it is a pleasure to take Sargon to the people in the rural communities. I tell them of Sargon because I know that it is a real service to them."

"I recommend Sargon Soft Mass

Pills because they act smooth and easy. It is a pleasure to take them."

The above straightforward statement was made by Capt. L. F. Barton, at his home at 213 South Fourth street, Monroe, La. Capt. Barton has been with the Missouri Pacific Railroad for the past 24 years, and is one of the most popular and best known men in the service. His long record has been an honorable one, and he now has what is known as a "preferred run" in the passenger service.

Capt. Barton belongs to the Order of Railway Conductors. He is also a Mason and member of the Methodist Church.

In the few short months it has been on the market Sargon has established astounding records in many leading cities. In Kansas City alone local wholesale and retail druggists have distributed a total of 143,888 bottles of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, or an average of a solid carload every month since its introduction there last June. Leading wholesale druggists throughout the country are buying Sargon exclusively in carload lots and the demand continues to increase as its remarkable health-building powers become known.

Sargon may be obtained in Santa Ana at the Schramm-Johnson drug store.—Adv.
